PNE LOOKING TO FILL 1400 JOBS

Vancouver, B.C.: This is the biggest year ever for entertainment programming at the annual PNE Fair! Along with brand new exciting features such as the Toontastic Celebration Parade, the first-ever Red Robinson's Talent Showdown, and the amazing Peking Acrobats are the classic Fair favourites – the Iams Superdogs, the PNE Prize Home, the Marketplace, the Pig Races and all of that tasty Fair food.

Expanded programming throughout the site has resulted in the Pacific National Exhibition looking to hire enthusiastic workers for over 1400 Fair time and seasonal jobs.

Applications for these jobs have been coming in from around the Lower Mainland and qualified individuals have been invited to an innovative first interview program with sessions scheduled for Friday, July 6th and Saturday, July 7th.

Designed to identify outgoing, enthusiastic team players, the interview will consist of applicants being divided into teams of 10 and then given a series of interactive games, puzzles and challenges. The group will have an allotted amount of time to complete the tasks and will be observed by expert facilitators who will then make hiring recommendations.

The PNE is the largest employer of youth in the province, providing valuable first job experience for tens of thousands of British Columbians. Many of the corporation's current full-time staff began as Fair time and seasonal employees. In all, the PNE directly employs over 3500 people.
