Community Engagement with Hastings Park/PNE

Happy New Year to our community! May this year of 2019 be filled with happiness.

The PNE continues to look at ways to engage with the community from hosting local schools for the National Terry Fox School Day run, to opening Playland for a day of fun.

Hastings Park is the PNE's permanent home following the adoption of the 2010 Master Plan and the 2013 governance review. To continue to grow our community communication, here are some of the ways to stay in touch and become engaged with the PNE as a local community member:

- Community Engagement Manager – Whitney Law; working on community initiatives and communications for the local area. She can be reached at wlaw@pne.ca or 604-251-7708.
- Community Advisory Group – 10 community members selected to engage in 5 to 6 meetings a year to provide constructive feedback to PNE staff around on-site programming, implementation of the Hastings Park/PNE Master Plan, and provide advice on operational aspects that may affect the local community, city, or region. For more information click here.
- Neighbourhood Focus Group – opportunity for local area residents to have a positive open dialogue with PNE staff a few times a year. Provide updates on programs/activities at Hastings Park, community initiatives, and to get constructive feedback from community members. If you are interested in getting more information please contact Whitney Law at wlaw@pne.ca or 604-251-7708.

- PNE Open Board Meetings – There are three meetings per year open to the public, providing the opportunity to speak to the Board on specific topics. For meeting dates and how to sign up to speak please click here.

CBC Wall Project

The WALL, located at the CBC Vancouver Broadcast Centre Plaza at 700 Hamilton Street, is a Vancouver Heritage Foundation public art initiative. The new artwork was installed on December 12, 2018 and the PNE was happy to assist local artist, Henry Tsang, in capturing a photo of the 1929 Livestock Building at Hastings Park.

The artwork is an infrared photograph of the Livestock Building located on the Pacific National Exhibition (PNE) fairgrounds. More about the artwork and project can be viewed here.

Community Offer Extended
